

I'm disgusted by your ruling today. The airwaves belong to the American public, not to global media corporations. You have just done citizens the disservice of jeopardizing our democracy, which is crucially dependent on broad and intelligent public discourse. Thanks to you, we can count on the further dumbing down of America by those intent on selling out US citizenship for corporate greed. The airwaves do not belong to Clear Channel or Murdoch or those who would line their pockets at the expense of the democratic ideal. We go to war for democracy, yet we don't stand up for it at home. Shame on you!
